Become a Taxi Driver for Canberra's leading Taxi Network

Many of Australia's business and political leaders survived university through the handy extra income earned through taxi driving.

Taxi driving is not among the highest paid professions, but work is available 24 hrs per day. It might suit you, your study program, and if applicable, your visa conditions.

You do need to be 20 years old and have held an Australian driver's licence for at least twelve months before applying for a taxi driver's licence. You also need to attend, and pass a Taxi Industry Driver Training course.
